

“An Offer of Help Managing Supply Chains”

The Master of Supply Chain Management (MSCM) COVID19 Response Consulting Service

PURPOSE: To offer temporary operational and supply chain management help to organizations during the mitigation and recovery from the COVID19 pandemic.

WHO IS INVOLVED: Graduating and current student volunteers from the Master of Supply Chain Management program at the Schulich School of Business.

WHAT THEY CAN DO: Provide their analytic expertise on-line to assist management and employees with specific supply chain related decisions such as those involving demand management, process improvement, sourcing and purchasing, logistics and distribution, e-commerce.

WHAT DOES IT COST: Students are volunteers. Given that our students may be awaiting employment or are economically challenged by the downturn in the economy, we encourage clients to pay in cash or kind what they can to support our students. Clients may be eligible for various government funded, short term pandemic grants and loans.

HOW DO I MAKE A REQUEST FOR HELP: Please fill out the information requested below and submit as indicated. A member of the MSCM COVID19 Response Team will get back to you ASAP.

Required Information (All submitted information is treated as confidential):

COMPANY:

ADDRESS:

PRODUCT AND/OR SERVICE:

ORGANIZATION SIZE (number of full time employees and/or total sales):

KEY CONTACT (name, position and contact information):

POTENTIAL PROJECT OR ACTIVITY (in about 500 words maximum):

ARE YOU OFFERING PAYMENT (YES/NO/MAYBE):

ESTIMATED START AND FINISH DATE:

Application Process:

- 1) Please place somewhere in the comment line of an e-mail the phrase: COVID19 MSCM Response
- 2) Send to: djohnston@schulich.yorku.ca

Thank you

David A. Johnston, Director, Master of Supply Chain Management program